By Defeating Danville Take Fourth Consecutive Game.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Norfolk, Va., April 28 .- Fifteen hunfired fans braved the chilly weather this evening to witness the first of the series of games between Danville and Portsmouth, and to cheer the Truckers on to their fourth consecutive victory, as the final score was in their favor,

Two old teammates of former years faced each other in the box-Loos, for Danville, and Hamilton, for Ports mouth. Both seemed in excellent shape despite the unfavorable weather, and the few hits made were well scattered. Another feature, and one even more remarkable in the high wind blowing.

Another feature, and one even more remarkable in the high wind blowing, was the snappy, gingery support that was given both twirers. The work of both nines was exceptionally clean, and at times daring, both pitchers being saved from hits by the fast footwork and sure handling of the ball.

Fortsmouth scored runs in the first and fifth, on good headwork with the stick, and assisted by the wildness of Loos, who handed out free passes to help along. But he steadled, and pulled out of each hole with a single tally leaking across.

Danville's only bid for the game was in the sixth. They got next to Hamilton for a few minutes. He walked a man, and soon there were three on bases, and no one out. But Hamilton settled down and retired the side with only one run, striking out two of the batters that came up, with chances to the things up. batters that cam-batters that cam-tie things up. balls, followed by a three-bagger that would have done credit to the stick of T. Roosevelt, put the crimps into the hopes of the Richmond fans yesterday afternoon and tied the score into a Gordian knot which the Colts were unable to unravel before the end of the eleventh inning. At the end of the eleventh, Umpire Pender called he game on account of darkness, with the score 4 to 4.

Although the game was as slow as a fat man going up a hill, it was for ammed full of plays that made the spectators stand up and take larged portions of notice every half minute. It dragged along time and again until everything looked lovely for a score, and then just as the runner was calculating on that bow to the grandstand before entering the dog house, somebody would stab the air with a loose looking mitt and the umpire would go another bag.

Geose Like Hailer's Comet.

In the first inning the goose looked so high to Richmohd that it was less distinct than Hailey's comet is to the jag-roller at 3:30 A. M. On the first jump into the pit Landgraff draw a base on balls and, by a series of decisions that looked as close as lovers in June, wormed his way home. Baker his shelply probable to first base that it is highly probable to first base that it is highly probable.
